AUTHOR'S NOTE

For The Writing Of This Book I Was Deeply Inspired By The Work Of Judith And Michael, Also Known As Aya And Kabamur.

I Sought To Follow With The Utmost Respect And Fidelity The Messages Shared On The Site https://familyoftaygeta.com/, Integrating Them With Reflections And Knowledge Drawn From My Personal Studies Of A Spiritual Nature, In Particular With The Information Present In The Book «Autobiography Of A Yogi» By Paramahansa Yogananda And With The Information Gathered Under The Name «The Law Of Ra». When There Were Slight Divergences Among The Sources, I Decided To Follow My Intuition.

It Is Important To Emphasize That The Story Narrated Has A Purely Imaginary Character And That Every Development Of The Plot Is To Be Considered The Fruit Of The Author's Free Creativity.

I Decided, Moreover, To Write The Book With A Capital Letter On Every Word, Precisely To Honor The Way In Which Judith Writes.

WHO MAITERYA IS?

According To The Pāli Canon, Maitreya Is The Only Future Buddha Explicitly Prophesied By The Buddha Gotama. He Will Appear On Earth In A Distant Cosmic Era Of Extraordinary Material And Moral Prosperity, To Attain In A Wholly Autonomous Manner Full Awakening, Guide A Community Of Thousands Of Monks And Redeem Humanity By Teaching The Dhamma In Its Pure And Original Form, Thus Guaranteeing The Continuity Of The Buddhist Doctrine In The Next Cosmic Cycle.

To Honor This Being Of Light Who, According To The Prophecy Of Gotama, Will Incarnate In The Future On Earth, I Decided To Give The Protagonist Of This Book His Name And To Ask Judith For One Of Her Famous Soul Readings.

Soul Origin 1 - Maitreya

Beloved Friends:

Your Sacred Origin is Alcyone of the Pleiades.

Your First Name of Soul is AKLUSH OMETURISH.

You are a male with the Energy of Service and Light!

Your hair is long and brown. You have a mate but no children You are a Teacher of Light and Peace on stars of duality and in your 233 Incarnations on Earth. In Ancient Dreams you walked among Monks and common people with serenity and a demeanor that was so calming and everyone noticed. You were different and kind no matter the circumstances. You embodied the characteristics that others longed for. For this reason you were named MAITREYA who would be the 'Noble One' and 'Lord of Love.' You are a Powerful Soul that masqueraded as a simple man. People Projected what they needed to see.

Your home is Created on blue mountains where you spend time with large animals. You meditate for large periods of time as you Commune with Spirit and Light!

I Love You So!

JUDITH

DEDICATION

I Dedicate This Book To Ayu Kheandro: Without Her Love I Would Still Be Lost.

I Dedicate This Book To Ramana Maharshi: Without His Teachings On Self-Inquiry I Would Not Have Known That One Must Concentrate On The Source Of The Thought «I».

I Dedicate This Book To Eckhart Tolle: Without His Teachings On The Inner Body I Would Not Have Known That, While One Gently Focuses One's Attention On The Thought «I», One Must At The Same Time Feel The Whole Body From Within.

I Dedicate This Book To Nisargadatta: Without His Teachings I Would Not Have Known That One Must Meditate On The Meditator, Watch Oneself While Watching One's Own Thoughts, Observe Oneself While Feeling The Whole Body From Within, Seek The Meditator.

I Dedicate This Book To Yogananda, To His Master Sri Yukteswar, To The Master Of His Master Lahiri Mahasaya, And To The Avatar Of Light Mahavatar Babaji. Without The Book «Autobiography Of A Yogi» The Mysteries Of The Universe Would Not Have Landed In This Dimension.

I Dedicate This Book To Judith And Michael, Alias Aya And Kabamur, For The Incredible Work They Have Done And That They Continue To Do. Without Their Commitment And Their Constancy Humanity Would Be Entirely Unprepared To Face The Shift.

THE BOOK

Maitreya Had His Eyes Closed And Was Completely Immersed In The Light. In That Silent And Limitless Consciousness There Was No Sense Of Identity. There Was No Space, There Was No Time, There Was No «I». There Was Only The Source, Being, The One, God: Whatever Name One Wished To Give It.

After An Indefinable Time, Maitreya Emerged From The Meditative Absorption On Pure Consciousness. With The Third Eye, Fully Developed In The Beings Of The Seventh Density, He Returned To Observe What Was Happening On A Distant Planet, Called Earth.

That Planet, Otherwise Insignificant, Was At The Center Of The Attention Of The Entire Galactic Federation. Very Soon, Indeed, It Would Change Vibration And Ascend To A New Density Of Consciousness. In Reality Only Half Of Human Beings Would Have Access To The New Density: The Other Half Would Face Mass Destruction And Would Begin A New Cycle In The Density In Which The Earth Found Itself, Also Called Duality.

The Event That Awaited The Pure Of Heart Of The Earth Was The So-Called Shift, The Beginning For The Planet Of The Long-Awaited Age Of Aquarius. When Elder Ikai, Supreme Commander Of The Galactic Federation, Would Give The Signal, Gigantic Quartz Crystals, Positioned On The Earth Thousands And Thousands Of Years Ago, Would Emerge From The Soil And Enter Into Resonance With The Souls Of 144,000 Terrestrial Starseeds, Carefully Chosen. The Crystals, Together With The Souls Of The 144,000, Would Generate An Energy Grid Of Light Capable Of Teleporting Half The Population Of The World, The Pure Of Heart, Into The New Dimension “Sheen”, Part Of The Fourth Density.

Maitreya Knew Perfectly That Densities And Dimensions Were Not Synonyms. The Densities Were Degrees Of Consciousness,

While The Dimensions Were Places In Space And Time. Usually They Proceeded Together: To A Density Corresponded A Dimension, As Sheen Corresponded To The Fourth Density. It Was Not, However, An Absolute Law. It Could Happen That A Consciousness Inhabited A Place Not Its Own, Or That A Place Welcomed Consciousnesses Of A Different Degree. On Earth, At That Moment, The Two Things Were Still Superimposed; After The Shift They Would No Longer Be.

For A Terrestrial Mind All This Was Inconceivable. Yet To Maitreya, Who Found Himself In The Seventh Density, It Seemed Perfectly Normal. In The Densities Of Light, From The Fourth To The Seventh, Individual Intelligence Was Much Closer To The Source — Another Name For Cosmic Intelligence, Or God — And Anything Was Understood With Ease.

Maitreya Released The Lotus Position And Rose. He Found Himself At The Center Of A Small Temple Without A Roof, With Four Columns Of White Crystal That Seemed To Hold Up The Sky. The Floor Too Was Of Crystal, So Transparent That The Grass Beneath Could Be Seen. Maitreya Began To Walk Slowly; Part Of His Attention Remained On The Earth, The Other Returned To The World Of Light That Surrounded Him.

At The Edge Of The Temple He Concentrated On The Center Of The Chest, And The Body Of Light Rose, With The Grace Of A Leaf Moved By A Breeze. Maitreya Flew Above A World That For A Being Of The Third Density Was A Star. Everything Appeared Luminous, Because The Divine Essence Of Every Thing Shone Evident. There Were No Sharp Boundaries Between Things And People: The Energy Fields Interpenetrated. Everything Was Vibration Of Light And Color, Clean, Ordered; There Were No Dead Lands And The Imperfections Of The Worlds Of The Third Density — Weeds, Bacteria, Insects — Were Absent. The Temperature Was That Of An Eternal Spring, And From Time To Time Pure White Snow Fell, Or Rains Of Multicolored Light;

Marvelous Flowers Filled The Meadows, And The Sky Was Always Painted With All The Shades Of The Rainbow. The Soil Was Rich In Lakes Like Opal, Sparkling Seas And Rivers Of The Colors Of The Iris. Fantastic Animals Populated That World: Winged Horses, Dragons With Scales Of Silver And Gold, Lions With Thick Manes, And Fairies Whose Magic Could Give Form To Entire Ships Of Light.

Unlike The Physical World, Known Through The Five Senses, That World Was Perceived With Intuition. The Beings Of Light Had Eyes, Ears, Nose, Tongue And Skin, But Could Feel With Any Part Of The Body: They Did Not Draw Energy From Oxygen, But Walked And Operated As Images Of Light. The Terrestrials Depended On Solids, Liquids, Gases; The Beings Of Light Fed On Cosmic Light, Spoke To One Another By Telepathy, Without The Confusion Of The Word, And Could Even Clothe Themselves, At Will, In New Bodies, Full Of Color, Materialized By The Force Of Will. As Humans Wore New Clothes On Occasions Of Gala, The Beings Of Light, In Certain Circumstances, Adorned Themselves With Forms Devised For The Occasion. In The World Inhabited By Maitreya Lived Only Beings Spiritually Very Advanced, Of Densities From The Fifth To The Seventh.

While He Flew, Maitreya Recognized The Degrees That Were Missing Down There, On The Earth. The Evolution Of Consciousness Traversed Seven Densities. The First Was The Elemental Consciousness, In Which There Existed Only The Basic Elements: Earth, Water, Fire, Air And Space. The Second Was Primitive Life, That Of Plants And Animals, Which Allowed Consciousness To Develop Movement And Instinct. The Third, The One In Which The Earth Found Itself And Which Was Called Duality, Was The Most Critical: In It The Being Acquired Self-Consciousness And Had To Choose Between Service To Others And Service To Self, That Is Between Positive And Negative Thoughts, Between The Ego And Unity. The Fourth Density Was

That Of Love And Empathic Union, Where Complexes Of Social Memory Were Formed, Groups Of Beings Who Shared Thoughts And Memory. The Fifth Was The Density Of Wisdom, Where One Learned To Use Love With Discernment. The Sixth Was That Of Silence, Where The Illusion Of Separation Between The Opposites, Including Good And Evil, Disintegrated. The Seventh, His Own, Was That Immediately Preceding The Return To The Creator: The Evolutionary Cycle Was Completed And Individual Identity Dissolved Into Totality, Becoming One With God, This Time However With Full Consciousness.

Maitreya Was Still Flying. His Body Radiated A Light Of The Shades Of The Rainbow, Which United Itself To The Environment, Nourished It, And Raised The Vibration Of Those Who Surrounded Him. A Being Of The Seventh Density, By Presence Alone, Helped The Others To Accumulate Wisdom.

In The End, Maitreya Reached The Point He Had Chosen. He Concentrated Again On The Center Of The Chest And Landed, Lightly, At The Top Of A Cliff. Below Shone A Sea Of Shades From Red To Orange. Maitreya Sat And Closed His Eyes, The Inner Eye Returned Entirely To The Earth.

Thanks To Cosmic Vision, He Was Conscious Of All The Suffering That Weighed Down There, And His Heart Full Of Love Was Wrung Without Ceasing Over What He Could Do To Alleviate At Least A Little The Sadness That Afflicted The Terrestrials. Whatever Action He Had Decided To Undertake, He Had To Be Very Cautious: Every Thought Of A Being Of The Seventh Density, Like Him, Was Manifested Instantly. Moreover Even A Being Of The Seventh Density Was Bound To Karma. In Physics It Was Called The Law Of Action And Reaction, And It Was At The Base Of The Movement Of The Stars; In The Realm Of The Spirit It Was Called The Law Of Cause And Effect, And It Was At The Base Of The Destiny Of All Beings.

Maitreya From The Cliff Saw Everything That At That Moment Weighed On The Earth: The Rapid Development Of Artificial Intelligence, The Great Wars That Raged On The Soil Of The Planet, The Enormous Lies That Corrupt Political Leaders Told Their Peoples, The Violences Perpetrated Against Women, Children And Animals.
All The Planets That In The Past Had Changed Density Had Traversed Very Turbulent Periods Before The Passage. Yet, In Many Ways, The Earth Was An Anomaly. To Truly Understand What Was Happening, One Had To Go Back To The Origin Of Everything: To The Birth Of The Galactic Federation…

The Galactic Federation Had Been Founded Millions And Millions Of Years Ago By Elder Ikai, One Of The Rare Beings Born Already With A Consciousness Of The Seventh Density Fully Developed.
The Source Was The Only Impersonal Consciousness That Underlay Every Phenomenon And Every Being: Being Without Attribute, The Awareness That Observed Its Own Expression Without End. It Was Not Possible To Understand It With Rational Thought; One Had To Enter Into Communion With It, Become One With It.
The Source Was Like A Spring Placed In The Midst Of The Sky, Which Made Water Gush In All Directions. Where Did The Water Come From? From Nothing. Where Did The Water Go? To No Place And Everywhere, At The Same Time.
The Universe Was Born When The Only Impersonal Consciousness, Beyond Time And Space, Had Freely Decided To Project Itself Into Space And Time To Experience Multiplicity. In That Act The Source Had Created Together The Seven Densities Of Existence, The Dimensions In Which Those Densities Could Stand, The Souls Of Each Density And The Rules That Governed Both The Physical World And The Spiritual One. The Densities

Were The Degrees Of Consciousness; The Dimensions, The Places In Space And Time. Usually Born Together, And Usually Corresponding, But Not Always. Thanks To Free Will The Souls Could Evolve Or Involve, That Is Pass From One Density To Another.

In This Great Spectacle, In This Cosmic Illusion, In The Circle Of Life, Creation, Maintenance, Destruction, The Involution And The Evolution Of Consciousness Were Not Sequential Events: They All Happened At The Same Time. The Source, In An Instant Without Time, Projected In Parallel All The Densities, The Dimensions And All Beings.

The So-Called Matter Was Nothing Other Than The Source In Its Minimum Degree Of Awareness: The Almost Complete Unawareness Of Itself. Every Atom Of Creation Possessed A Soul. In A Being Of The Third Density Several Atoms, Each With Its Own Consciousness, Gathered Around A Principal Atom, Which Served As Principal Consciousness.

In The Higher Densities The Atom Took On Another Nature. What In The Third Density Was The Principal Atom, In The Densities Equal To Or Higher Than The Fourth Became The Body Of Light. The Inhabitants Of These Densities, Including Maitreya, Lived In Places That The Beings Of The Third Density Saw As Stars. Human Beings Would Not Have Believed Their Own Eyes, If They Could Have Seen How Many Beings Of Light Inhabited The Sun.

The Source, Expressing Itself In The Game Of Creation, Had Caused Some Beings To Be Born With Consciousnesses Of The Seventh Density Already Fully Developed, Called Elohim, In Honor Of The Absolute, The State Without Time Or Space. Some Of Them, The First To Respond To That Act, Had Decided To Express Themselves As Male And Female And To Procreate Energetically, Calling Other Souls From The Source And Giving Rise To Lineages, Races, Ancestral Lines: Whatever Name One Wished To Give Them.

The Five Races That Had Founded The Galactic Federation Were, In Order Of Spiritual And Technological Advancement, The Pleiadians, The Arcturians, The Sirians, The Andromedans And Finally The Orionans. The Races Had United At The Proposal Of Elder Ikai, The Being Destined To Guide The Evolution Of The Entire Universe, The One Whose Mind Was Most In Attunement With Cosmic Intelligence. Each Race Inhabited The Star, Or The Place, From Which It Took Its Name, Like The Andromedans Who Lived On The Stars Of The Constellation Of Andromeda. After The Union, Many Other Peoples, Of Different Planets And Stars, Became Members Of The Federation. To Some Of Them The Federation Gave A New Body, In Which Circulated Neither Blood, Nor Other Substances, But Light.
While It Grew Larger, The Galactic Federation, In Its Missions Of Exploration Through The Dimensions, Discovered The Earth. There Inhabited A Prehuman Species That Barely Managed To Survive. The Federation Then Decided To Advance Their Bodies, From The Prehuman Form To The Human One. It Was Not The Gift Of Light, Already Granted To Other Peoples And Destined, On Earth, For Sheen, The Dimension Of The Fourth Density In Which The Pure Of Heart Would Enter With The Age Of Aquarius; It Was A Change Of Species And, Without That, Humanity Would Probably Have Become Extinct. The Source, At That Point, Would Have Relocated Their Souls To Another Place In Space And Time, Chosen By Its Infinite Intelligence.
To Be Able To Give The Body Of Light To The Terrestrials, That First Evolution Of The Body Was Not Enough. Consciousness Too Had To Evolve, And That Evolution Could Not Be Imposed From Outside: It Could Happen Only From Within. For This Reason The Souls Of The Members Of The Federation Began To

Incarnate In Terrestrial Bodies. Thus Were Born The Starseeds: Men With A Soul Coming From Another Dimension And Density. The Process Of Incarnation Was Assisted By The Light Chambers, Advanced Technological And Spiritual Structures, Crystal-Based, Which Served As Dimensional Portals For Consciousness. When The Being Of Light Entered A Light Chamber, Its Body Entered Stasis And The Technology Transported The Consciousness Toward The New Dwelling Of The Soul: Another Dimension. A Consciousness Of The Fifth Or Sixth Density, Which Inhabited A Star In A Dimension Of Light, Could Thus Move Into A Dimension Made Of Matter.

Even If Every Soul, At The Moment Of Conception, Forgot Its Own Origin, The Higher Consciousness Remained Intact, Present As Vibration. An Intuition, A Choice, Was Enough To Generate An Evolutionary Impulse. One Of Those Souls Could, For Example, Imprint In The Host Body-Mind The New Idea Of Cooking Meat Before Eating It. That Idea, Born From Within, Was Put Into Practice And, Over Time, Altered Genetic Expression, Acting Directly On The DNA. Consciousness Transformed Matter.

Beyond Incarnation, The Galactic Federation Also Worked Through Direct Interventions: The Construction Of The Pyramids, The Orientation Of The Terrestrial Energy Grids, Advanced Astronomical Knowledge. They Were The Same Grids That, In The Age Of Aquarius, Would Respond To The Crystals And Open The Way Toward Sheen.

Everything Seemed To Be Going In The Right Direction. Humanity Was Evolving Quickly, When The Unthinkable Happened: Some Beings Of The Sixth Density, Members Of The Galactic Federation, Decided To Betray It.

Even In The Sixth Density The Ego Had Not Yet Dissolved Completely. Thoughts Clearly Felt As Negative Could Arise, And Feelings Like Anger, Hatred, Envy. Only That, In That Density,

They Lasted Less Than A Fraction Of A Second: They Were Immediately Dropped, Like A Stone Held In The Fist. With Long Practice One Had Learned The Art Of Not Identifying With One's Own Thoughts And With One's Own Emotions. The Mind, And Everything It Contained, Was Held Outside The Self, Not As Identity.

Free Will Remained, However. If One Decided To Give Attention, That Is Energy, To Those Thoughts, Especially If Negative, They Could Grow And, Like Weeds, Suppress The Original Identity Of Light. Maitreya, For His Part, Had Evolved Faster Than Normal, And His Consciousness Had Risen To The Last Density. He Had Incarnated Many Times As A Starseed On Earth, And Each Life Had Left Him A Wisdom That The Others, Remaining In Their Own Dimension, Had Not Been Able To Gain. For This Reason He Now Mastered The Mind: He Could Choose Which Thoughts To Believe, And To Which To Give Energy. Many Beings Of High Densities, Though Ancient, Could Not Say The Same.

Oppisheklio And Ashtar Were Brothers, Sons Of Ketaweh, A Sirian Of The Star Sirius, And Of Pidkozox, A Reptilian Coming From Uranus. Pidkozox, Before Marrying Ketaweh, Was The Leader Of The Inhabitants Of Uranus, The Nepac. It Had Been The Galactic Federation Itself That Secured Their Passage Into The Fourth Density, Giving Them A Body In Which Circulated Not Blood, But Light.

For Millions Of Years Pidkozox Governed As Leader Of Uranus, Also Becoming A Member Of The Galactic Federation And Representative Of His Own Race, His Consciousness Having Risen To The Sixth Density. Traveling Through The Cosmos He Visited Sirius And Fell In Love With The Beautiful Ketaweh. From Them Were Born Two Sons: Ashtar And Oppisheklio.

Ashtar Became The Leader Of The Sirians. In The Heart Of Oppisheklio, Instead, Grew Envy For His Brother, Fed By Free

Will And By Inexperience. At First He Sought To Hide The Darkness, Until It Could No Longer Be Hidden.
Maitreya Knew That There Was No Worse Enemy, In Spiritual Evolution, Than Dishonesty, Toward Oneself And Toward Others. Even If One Felt The Most Terrible Feelings, It Was Always Right To Open The Heart To One's Own Brothers Of Light, So That They Could Heal The Darkness With Their Love.
Oppisheklio, Instead, Decided To Keep That Envy To Himself, Confiding It Only To His Father Pidkozox, Without Knowing That In The Heart Of The Latter Too Dwelled The Same Feeling: Not Toward Ashtar, But Toward The Very Leader Of The Galactic Federation, Elder Ikai.
Pidkozox Drove The Son Even Deeper Into The Darkness, And Together They Decided To Rebel Against The Galactic Federation. They Were Exiled. Father And Son, Then, Manipulated Many Other Sirians With A Campaign Of Lies. Their Power, Though Now Given Over To The Darkness, Was Great, And They Decided To Use It To Deceive Other Beings Of Light. Most Of The Fallen Angels, The So-Called Anunnaki Who Followed Pidkozox And Oppisheklio, Were Sirians. Some Orionans Joined Too, And Members Of Other Races.
The Anunnaki Landed On Earth To Have Themselves Worshipped As Gods, But Shortly After They Had To Seek Another Dwelling. Their Presumption Made Them Ignore The Subtlest Laws Of The Spiritual Physics Of The Universe. Whenever A Being Of A Higher Density Manifested On Earth Without Incarnating At Conception, He United His Own Vibrational Field With That Of The Planet. Between The Two Fields There Occurred An Energy Exchange Which, If It Was Not Perfectly Controlled, Lowered The Vibration Of That Being's Body.
Shortly After The Anunnaki Walked On Earth, Worshipped As Gods, Their Power Began To Diminish, Until They Had To Move

Definitively Into The Astral Dimension. It Was Not Part Of Any Of The Seven Principal Densities. Those Were A Scale Of Consciousness, Not Places In Space And Time. The Astral Was Rather A Shifting Energy Plane, Where Thoughts, Dreams And Concepts Existed Before Taking Form And Manifesting In The Other Dimensions.

The Galactic Federation Had From The Beginning Limited The Scope Of Action Of The Anunnaki, While Allowing Them To Operate, In The Hope Of Immediate Repentance And To Respect The Spiritual Laws Of Free Will. It Then Decided That It Would Intervene: It Would Capture Them And Force Them Into A Program Of Forced Rehabilitation, In Which Consciousness Was Redeemed Through Guided Dreams, Which Led It Again Toward The Light.

The Federation, However, Did Not Succeed In Finding The Anunnaki. The Astral Realm Was Extremely Fluid And Changed Instantly According To Thought, Making Conventional Tracking Impossible. Elder Ikai, Afterward, Chose Not To Press Further: The Actions Of The Fallen Angels Had Brought, And Would Still Bring, Much Suffering, But That Suffering Would Also Be A Great Evolutionary Impulse For The Consciousness Of The Terrestrials. After All, It Had Always Been A Channel Of The Spirit, Because It Struck Directly At The Ego. Maitreya, At First, Had Doubted. Not Intervening Had Seemed To Him An Abandonment, And The Terrestrials Were, Even For Ikai, Like Children. Then He Had Understood. Elder Ikai Was The Being Whose Consciousness Stood Closest To The Creator: The Painful Choice Was Not A Lack Of Love, But The Fastest Way To Make Those Who Remained On Earth Evolve.

The Anunnaki Did Not Possess The Light Chambers, The Technology To Incarnate On Earth As Starseeds, And Had To Find Another Way To Influence The Terrestrials. They Were Envious, Full Of Rancor Toward Those Who Had Been Brothers

Of Light, And Wanted At All Costs To Corrupt The Souls Of The Earth. They Knew How Much Elder Ikai, And The Galactic Federation, Loved Them.

Before Taking Refuge In The Astral Dimension They Had Prepared The Return. They Had Instructed Groups Of Terrestrials Given Over To Evil: With Dark Rituals, Including Human Sacrifices, They Would Invoke From The Astral The Souls Of The Anunnaki. They Had Also Modified The DNA Of A Human Lineage, And From There Was Born The Myth Of Adam And Eve. Those Men Were Taller Than Normal, With Elongated Skulls, Blue Eyes And Fair Skin. They Lived Much Longer Than The Others, And Were The First Nobles And The First Pharaohs. It Was Those Bodies That The Anunnaki Took Possession Of.

Once A Physical Vehicle, A Person, Was Chosen, The Consciousness Of Those Dark Beings Took The Place Of The Original Soul. It Was A Walk-In: A Soul That Entered An Already Inhabited Body And Displaced The Previous Soul. Sometimes The Passage Happened With Consent, In A Sacred Act Of Cooperation. Some Walk-Ins Were Beings Of Light, Come To Help The Earth In Critical Moments. In The Case Of The Anunnaki It Happened Brutally, A Possession, And Severely Damaged Also The Consciousness Of The Previous Host.

Pidkozox And Oppisheklio Gave Rise To Various Myths That Portrayed Them As Creators And Protectors Of The Human Race: Enki And Enlil, The Sumerian Gods; Zeus And Apollo, The Greek Gods. The Myth Closest To The Truth Remained, However, That Of Satan And Lucifer, The Greatest Deceivers In The History Of The Earth. Satan Was The Father, Pidkozox; Lucifer Was The Son, Oppisheklio.

Satan And Lucifer Deceived Everyone: The Roman Emperor Constantine Was One Of The Most Terrible Possessions Of Oppisheklio. He Was A Follower Of The Sun God, The Unconquered Sun: Another Name Of Oppisheklio. His New Doctrine Would Carry Forward The Ancient Idea Of Ritual Sacrifice Through The Mass — «This Is The Body And The Blood Of Christ» — Using The Teachings Of Jesus To Make Them Easier For The Masses To Take In.

The Last Possession Of Oppisheklio Was The Man Known As Iosif Stalin. He Killed, Tortured And Dismembered Human Beings. When The Moment Came To Die, The Galactic Federation Acted With Enormous Speed And Succeeded In Capturing The Consciousness Of Oppisheklio.
The Same Happened To Pidkozox: While He Was About To Return To The Astral, After The Death Of The Last Host Body, Henry Kissinger, The Consciousness Of Pidkozox Was Captured By The Galactic Federation.
Both Dark Consciousnesses Were Now Confined, Thanks To A Particular Technology, In A Secret Base Under Antarctica. Elder Ikai Had However Allowed Father And Son To Go On Communicating With Their Subordinates, Though Knowing That They Would Continue To Deceive: So Required The Rules Of Free Will. After The Passage To Sheen, The New Earth, The Two Dark Identities Would Be Reset, And Their Consciousness Would Be Taken To The Central Sun, A Black Hole. Whatever Entered It, Even A Body Of Light, Was Drawn In And Nullified. From There Father And Son Would Have To Begin Again, Once More Consciousnesses Of Simple Atoms In The First Density.

Maitreya Opened His Eyes Again. Consciousness Returned To The World Of Light That Surrounded Him. The Light Of Several Suns And Moons Bathed His Face. He Also Felt The Heat Of The Planet On Which He Found Himself, Which Was Itself A Star: It Came From The Rock On Which He Sat, And From The Reddish Ocean In Front Of Him.
In His World All Beings Were Spiritually Very Advanced. Yet Many Still Kept Desires In The Heart, And For That Very Reason

They Could Not Rise To The Seventh Density. There Desires Were Extinguished. One Acted Only To Exhaust One's Own Karma, Guiding The Souls With Whom, In The Past, Destiny Had Been Intertwined Toward Ever Higher Densities.

Desires Changed With The Density Of Consciousness. In The First Three They Were Above All Physical, Rooted In Egotism And In The Pleasures Of The Senses. From The Fourth To The Fifth Enjoyment Became Vibration: The Ethereal Music Of The Spheres, The Entire Creation As A Play Of Shifting Light. In The Sixth One Wanted Only To Understand The Universe, Its Physical And Spiritual Laws. For This Reason, When A Being Of High Density Incarnated On Earth As A Starseed, Even If With The Change Of Dimension Physical Desires Returned, The Interest Of That Being Turned Above All To Music, To Art, To Science.

Maitreya Contemplated His Own Heart, Now Empty Of Every Desire, Even Of The Desire To Know. True Knowledge, He Had Learned, Was Not Having The Answer To Everything: It Was No Longer Having Questions. But Perhaps He Had Arrived There Because To The Questions Of The Mind He Had Already Found An Answer…

On Maitreya's Face Appeared A Tear. The Star Responded At Once: A Solar Breeze Caressed His Face And Dried That Drop Of Light. In His Heart, A Second Before Completely Empty, There Were Now Sadness And Happiness Together. Every Desire Had Been Extinguished, But Works Still Remained For Him To Accomplish Before His Form Could Merge With That Of The Cosmos. He Still Had To Help The Souls Who Had Placed Their Trust In Him And Who Loved Him Truly Arrive At The Seventh Density. He Was Grateful To Be Able To Accompany Them. He Was Sad Because He Had To Postpone The Definitive Union With The Source.

Maitreya Rose From The Cliff, Ready To Return Home. There Awaited Him His Eternal Companion And His Children: The Souls To Whom He Was Bound By Karma.
Maitreya's House Rose Within A Lush Garden. It Was Of The Color Of Sparkling Gold And Was Studded With Precious Stones: The Door Shone With The Red Of Rubies While Diamonds, Pearls, Sapphires And Emeralds Were Set In The Walls; In The Air Hovered The Scent Of Incense And Of Roses.
The Members Of The Family Occupied Different Parts Of The House, Divided By Arches Of Crystal The Color Of Snow, Like Distinct Dwellings Inside A Single Palace. Some Rooms Were Entirely Of Crystal. Maitreya's Favorite, The One In Which He Spent Most Of His Time, Was Of Amethyst. The Vibration Of The Sacred Stone Entered Into Perfect Attunement With The Silence Of His Heart.
After Eating Fruit And Vegetables Of Light With His Children And His Eternal Companion, And After Singing With Them Melodious Songs That Vibrated Like Mantras, Maitreya Withdrew Into The Amethyst Room. Meanwhile Night Had Fallen And The Sky, Which By Day Lit Up With The Brilliant Tones Of Red, Orange, Yellow And Green, Now Wrapped Itself In The Deeper Colors Of Blue, Of Indigo And Of Violet, Sealing The Night And Completing The Chromatic Spectrum Of The Rainbow. In The Amethyst Room There Were No Beds And Maitreya Rested Seated In The Lotus Position, Settled On Soft And Colored Cushions, While Above Him The Reflections Of The Night Sky Filtered Through The Transparencies Of The Roof, Bringing Out Still More The Natural Violet Color Of The Crystal.

Once Again Alone, Maitreya Returned To Concentrate On What Was Happening On The Planet Earth, Which He Held So Dear Also Because So Many Times He Had Incarnated There As A Starseed. With His Third Eye He Resumed Observing. He Was Able To See Simultaneously Past, Present And A Part Of The Future. He Could Not Observe The Whole Future, Because It Had Not Yet Been Entirely Written: The Karmic Forces Intertwined Relentlessly With Free Will, And Events Remained Not Entirely Predictable. It Was As If Maitreya Succeeded In Observing, Together, All The Scenarios That Took Shape On The Horizon.

The Shift Was Assured. Nothing Could Have Prevented It, And The Vibration Of Sheen, The New Earth, Was Already Present In Space-Time. Only Elder Ikai Knew What The Exact Moment Would Be. He Was The Only One In Telepathic Contact, Simultaneously, With All The Souls Of The Starseeds And Of The Terrestrials.

Even Though The Shift Was Assured, It Could Not Be Predicted Exactly Which Souls Would Have Access To Sheen And Which Would Remain In The Third Density. The Process Concerned Above All The Souls Of The Earth, But Incarnated Starseeds Too Could Miss It, Although It Was Less Probable. They, Indeed, Were Never Truly Alone. From The Moment They Entered The Mother's Womb, Every Starseed Was Accompanied By A Guide, Chosen In Origin With Love. A Friendly Consciousness, Often A Relative, Coming From The Higher Realms: A Companion Soul Who Had Decided To Remain Close, Invisible But Present, To Whisper In The Silence Of The Mind Forgotten Memories, Intuitions, Dreams And Warnings.

All The Starseeds Had A Guide. Or More Than One. Some Guides Changed Over Time, Others Remained For The Entire Duration Of The Terrestrial Dream. Maitreya Too Had Filled That Role Many Times, Between One Incarnation And Another. He Knew That The Connection Between Guide And Incarnate Transcended Time, Distance And Even Death. It Was A Sacred Exchange, Pure, Free Of Judgment, Beyond The Ego.

Maitreya Found Himself Thinking Of Jesus, Yeshua. Not As The Religious Texts Told Of Him, But As He Knew Him: An Avatar Of Light, A Pleiadian Of Merope Who Had Incarnated Under The Name Of Sananda. Elder Ikai Himself Had Been Sananda's Guide During His Mission On Earth.

While The World Accused Him Of Being Mad Because He Heard An Inner Voice, Sananda Walked Guided By The Calm And Silent Wisdom Of Ikai. It Was Not God Speaking To Him, Not In The Way The Priests Of The Time Understood It: Not An Anthropomorphic Being Seated On A Celestial Throne, But An Elevated Consciousness, A Galactic Brother, A Companion Of Origin.

Sananda Did Not Incarnate To Found A Religion. He Never Asked To Be Worshipped. He Taught That God Was Inside The Heart Of Men, That All Were Children Of The Source, And That Miracles Were Not Exclusive, But The Natural Expression Of Awakened Consciousness. He Did Not Speak Of A God Who Punishes, But Of An Intelligence Of Love That Dwelt In Every Creature. He Said That Anyone Could Have Done What He Did, And Even More.

Jesus, Or Rather Sananda, Was Betrayed, Manipulated In The Stories. His Name, His Message, His Image Were Rewritten, Bent, Transformed To Adapt To The Powers Of The Time. Sananda Did Not Die On The Cross. He Had Left The Earth In The Light, Together With Nashea, The Pleiadian Whom The World Knew As Mary Magdalene. They Had Loved Each Other Deeply. They Had Had Children. They Had Taught Together The Power Of Union, The Strength Of Forgiveness, The Beauty Of Compassion.

Inside Maitreya's Consciousness, Past, Present And Future Seemed To Happen Together, Like Wrecks Of A Ship Floating In The Same Ocean. After The Shift, Half The Population, The Worthy One, Would Find Itself In Sheen, A World Of Light Suited To Consciousnesses Of The Fourth Density. Those Left Behind Would Live In A World In Which The Light, That Is The Heart Of Pure People, No Longer Existed: A World Of Soulless Clones, Piloted By Artificial Intelligence, Destined For Progressive Collapse, Struck By Enormous Natural Catastrophes Until Complete Destruction.

What At That Moment Was Truly Happening On Earth Was Ignored By Most. Only Two Starseeds Were Seeking To Awaken Humanity, Starseeds Included, From The Deception That The Servants Of Pidkozox And Oppisheklio Were Perpetrating. The First Was Michael, Active On The Platform X. His Identity Of Light Was Kabamur, The Son Of Elder Ikai: Not A Guide Among Others, But The One Who On Earth Carried The Voice Of The Father, And Who For This Reason Spoke Openly, Without The Shelter Of Invisibility. The Other Was Judith, Whose Identity Of Light Was Aya, Ikai's Eternal Companion, His Wife In The Higher Realms. On Earth She Did Not Preach Like The Son. She Held The Thread: She Remembered, Corrected, Remained Beside Kabamur When The Awakening Became Too Bitter To Be Borne Alone. Son And Wife, Then, Of The One Whose Consciousness Stood Closest To The Creator: Not Two Messengers Of Any Kind, But The Very House Of Ikai, Incarnated.

For Years The Anunnaki Had Incarnated As Walk-Ins, Through Dark Rituals. And Yet This Method Had A Great Limitation: The Person Who Underwent The Ritual Had To Be In Agreement. For Thousands Of Years Their Power Could Not Extend Beyond The Borders Of Their Creed. This Changed During The Presidency Of Eisenhower. The NSA, The Military Agency That Dealt With Extraterrestrial Contacts, Met Secretly With Positive And Negative Groups. The Alliance With The Galactic Federation, Which Would Have Accelerated The Shift, Was Rejected. The NSA Instead Made A Pact With A Group Of Negative Extraterrestrials, The Zetas: In Exchange For The Technology To Produce Rapidly Human Clones Of Any Age, The Military

Industry Would Make Available Bodies Of Human Beings To Be Studied.

That Technology Had Been The Greatest Deception Of Modern History. The Cabal — The Secret Organization That Gathered The Elite Faithful To Pidkozox And Oppisheklio — Thanks To Its Leader — The Founder Of Google Larry Page, In Whose Body Was Found The Soul Of One Of The Sons Of Oppisheklio — Had Succeeded In Taking Possession Of The Military Technology Of Rapid Cloning. Thanks To It, The Cabal Had Deceived Humanity, Had Replaced A Great Many People, Had Started Wars, Had Staged Pandemics, Maintaining Control, Precisely Thanks To The Clones. Putin, Xi Jinping, Biden Were All Clones, Created In The Laboratory And Controlled From A Distance.

The Only One Among The Great Leaders Whom The Dark Forces Had Not Succeeded In Recruiting, Nor In Cloning, Was Trump. Not For Political Skill, But For What He Was: Trump's Higher Self Was The Archangel Uriel. The Archangels Were Beings Created By The Source Directly With Consciousness Of The Seventh Density Fully Developed, Like Ikai, But Of Another Nature: They Did Not Form Families, They Did Not Settle In A Lineage, They Traveled In Service Of All Creation In The Dimensional Multiverse. Uriel Was One Of Them. For This Reason The Cabal Could Not Replace Him: The DNA Of Consciousnesses Of The Seventh Density Could Not Be Replicated.

On Earth, As An Incarnate, Trump Had Married Melania And Had Had Children, Among Them Barron. They Too Were Souls That Maitreya Recognized. Melania's Soul Was Aimeo Watuok, One Of The Most Respected Leaders Of The Arcturians; Barron's Soul Was Bekee Lames, Who In A Past Incarnation Had Gone Down In History As Saint Germain. It Was Not Just Any Family Beside A Leader. It Was A Knot Of Souls Already Known To The Federation, Gathered In That House.

Trump Was Aware Of What The Future Of The Earth Would Be, And For This Reason He Often Spoke, In His Interviews, Of The New Golden Age, Of The Age Of Aquarius. They Were References To Sheen. Trump Was One Of The People Most Hated By The Cabal, Because He Would Be The Leader Who Would Ferry The United States, And The Rest Of The World, Into The Last Phase Of The Transition. The Cabal Had Tried Several Times To Eliminate Him, Without Ever Succeeding. During One Of The Latest Rallies A Direct Intervention Had Even Been Necessary: A Bullet Had Been Deflected, Missing Trump By A Few Millimeters. The Media Had Spoken Of A Malfunction Of The Weapon. Maitreya Knew That Behind It Was The Intervention Of The Galactic Federation.

The Cabal Had Deceived Everyone, Cloning And Then Killing Those Who Had Opposed It. Jim Carrey, Guest On The Jimmy Kimmel Show, Had Sought To Warn The Population Of The United States. He Had Made A Triangle Around His Mouth, With His Tongue Out, And Had Said That That Was The Symbol Of The Illuminati, Another Name Behind Which The Members Of The Cabal Hid. He Had Said That The Hosts And The People Of Television Had Been Hired By The Government To Distract People, Make Them Laugh, Make Them Docile, And That Then They Went Into The Woods, Naked, In A Circle, To Decide Things. To Take Revenge, The Cabal Had Killed His Girlfriend, Then Cloned Him, Tortured Him And Finally Killed Him.

In Maitreya's Consciousness There Were Thousands And Thousands Of Images, As If A Man Were Standing Before Endless Screens, Attentive To Each Of Them. While Those Images Remained Suspended In The Ether, Maitreya Returned To His World Of Light, Seated Inside The Amethyst Room. Even Though He Was Always Anchored To Consciousness Itself, And Not To Its Content, Seeing How Much Suffering The Anunnaki Had Created Made Him Sad. Thinking That There Were Millions

Of Incarnated Starseeds, Some Of Whom Had Been Sucked Into The Darkness, And Whose Consciousness Would Hardly Have Been Able To Return To The Dimensions Of Light If Not With A Very Long Rehabilitation, Made Him Even Sadder. Some Of Those Souls Had Been His Friends.
All These Emotions, Although For Maitreya They Were Like Ripples In A Great Lake, Could Cloud His Judgment. He Was Still Trying To Understand What He Could Do To Help Humanity Without Generating A Karma That Would Bind Him. He Then Decided To Enter The State Of Samadhi On The I. In That State, Where Only Pure Consciousness Existed, Every Negative Trace Was Completely Cleansed, And The Mind Returned To Perfect Purity.

Maitreya Was Seated With The Spine Straight, In The Position Of Meditation. His Body Was Relaxed And His Eyes Closed. He Was Aware Of The Energy Field Of His Body. Not As A Thought: As A Single Feeling.
Maitreya Had Let Go Of Any Mental Image He Had Of Himself, And Was Simply Present To Himself, Aware Of Every Atom Of His Body. He Had Filled All The Space Of His Body — Hands, Feet, Legs, Arms, Abdomen, Chest And Head — With His Consciousness, And Experienced This Space As A Single Feeling, A Single Field Of Energy. His Sense Of The «I» Was United With That Perception, As If Only That Formless Consciousness Existed.
After A Little, Maitreya Brought The Attention Even Deeper Inside The Feeling Of His Inner Body.
As When One Immerses Oneself In Warm Water And Abandons Oneself Totally To The Feeling Of Relaxation, Maitreya Was Completely Immersed Inside The Perception Of The Inner Space Of His Body, Fused With That Field Of Energy, So That Duality

No Longer Existed Between Observed And Observer, Between Him And The Feeling Of The Space Of His Body.
In The Ocean Of Being Experienced By Maitreya There Was No Longer Anything Tangible, No Form Or Identity To Cling To, No Sense Of Time Or Of Space, No Point Of Reference. There Was Only A Mysterious Void Full Of Bliss, Unnameable And Ineffable.
After A Time Impossible To Define, Maitreya Emerged From That Meditative Absorption, Charged With Vital Energy: He Felt As If He Had Just Taken A Bath In The Heart Of A Star. Little By Little His Consciousness Resumed Formulating Thoughts About The Earth And About The Great Change That Was About To Take Place. This Time, However, The Attention Turned Toward The Spiritual Teachings, The Meditation Techniques That The Starseeds Had Presented To The Terrestrials.
Maitreya Knew That, Among All The Methods, Only One Could Be Called Direct Toward True Spiritual Evolution. The Other Methods, Based On The Chakras, On The Elements, On The Channels, Were Indirect, Slow, Laborious. With The Direct Method The Preliminary Results Could Seem More Discouraging, But One Reached The Goal At Once: Sahaja Samadhi, And Entry Into The Seventh Density. Once There, One Had To Extinguish All Karmic Debts, Taking Care Not To Generate New Ones, Until Completing The Cycle Of Return To The Creator.
The Method Was One, But Two Incarnated Starseed Masters Had Presented It With Different Nuances: Ramana Maharshi And Eckhart Tolle. The First Had Called It Self-Inquiry; The Second, Inner Body.
In The Technique Of Self-Inquiry One Had To Remain Always Attentive To The Inner Feeling — Or To The Thought — Of The «I», Seeking Gradually To Reach The Source Of The Feeling Of The «I». In Practice, Instead Of Placing One's Attention On An External Object, One Concentrated On The Subject Itself: Instead

Of Meditating On Something, One Meditated On The Meditator, The Consciousness That Was Meditating. One Could Begin To Meditate By Asking Oneself Inwardly: “Who Am I?” And Directing One’s Attention To That Which Within Oneself Corresponded To The «I». The Sense O Feeling Of The «I», Sought Ever More Deeply, Would Little By Little Be Extinguished.

In The Technique Of The Inner Body One Concentrated One’s Attention On The Perception Of The Space Occupied By The Whole Body, As He Himself Had Done A Little Earlier. Initially One Had To Succeed In Feeling The Whole Body From Within As A Single Field Of Energy, Then One Could Take That Same Perception As The Object Of Meditation. It Was Not At All Simple For A Terrestrial To Enter Into Contact With His Own Inner Body. At First One Had To Focus Only On One Part Of The Body, Generally The Hands. One Concentrated On One’s Hands, Seeking To Feel The Space And The Energy Occupied By The Hands; As If One Had Put On A Glove, Made Of Skin, And One Wanted To Feel The Feeling Of Vitality Inside The Glove. Such Concentration Was Not To Be Done With The Mind; One Was Not To “Think” Of The Sensation Of Vitality Inside The Hands, But Rather To “Feel”. If One Kept The Attention In The Hands For A While, The Sense Of Vitality Intensified. That Was The Moment To Move To The Feet. One Placed The Attention Inside The Feet And Then Began To Feel Hands And Feet From Within At The Same Time. Finally, One Included The Other Parts Of The Body — Legs, Arms, Abdomen, Chest And So On — In The Sensation, Until One Succeeded In Feeling The Whole Body From Within As A Single Field Of Energy.

The Two Techniques Were Like Two Different Ways Of Writing The Same Thing, With Differing Emphasis On Distinct Characteristics, And Indeed They Could Be Practiced Simultaneously: The Attention Of One Who Chose To Follow The Direct Method Oscillated Like A Pendulum Between Two Poles: “Feeling The Whole Body From Within As A Single Field Of Energy” And “The Inner Feeling Of The «I»”. At A Certain Point The Two Sensations Would Unify And The Two Poles Would Meet!

Meditation Was Not To Happen Only In Sessions. It Had To Become Constant. Throughout The Day, Eating, Walking, Working, One Sought To Remain In Contact With The Inner Space Of The Body, Anchored To The Inner Sensation Of The «I». The Aim Was Not To Apply A Technique. It Was To Become That Technique.

For That Immersion To Succeed, One Had At The Same Time To Learn Not To Identify With One’s Own Mind. All The Thoughts That Arose Were To Be Observed At A Distance, With Detachment, Without Judgment, Without Classifying Them As Good Or Bad, Right Or Wrong. Thoughts Moved In The Space Of Awareness, And Were To Be Regarded Like External Sounds, Without Identifying With Them, Without Giving Them A Sense Of Identity.

If One Gave Attention — And Attention Was The Supreme Form Of Energy — Even To A Single Thought, The Attention Toward The Inner Feeling Of The «I» Diminished. The Opposite Was Also True: The More One Gave Attention To The «I», The More The Flow Of The Other Thoughts Diminished.

The Same Detached Observation Was To Be Practiced With The Emotions, Which Were Nothing Other Than An Amplified And Energized Set Of Thoughts. Unlike Thoughts, Emotions Had A Strong Physical Component: They Arose At The Point Where Mind And Body Met. They Were The Reflection Of The Mind In The Body, The Physical Expression Of One Of The Many Inner Stories. A Thought Of Hatred Toward Someone, For Example, Produced In The Body A Charge Called Anger.

When At Last One Reached The Source Of The Inner Feeling Of The «I», Or Of The Inner Body, One Reached Samadhi: The State In Which The Sensation Of Existing As An Individual Soul Was No Longer Present, But There Was Only Existence, Consciousness And Bliss. One Could Say That Energy Had Reached The Heart. If However That State Lasted Only In Meditation, One Was Not Yet At The Ultimate Goal: Remaining In Samadhi In Every Circumstance Of Daily Life, Sahaja Samadhi.

Samadhi Arose When The Meditator Succeeded In Fusing Completely With The Object Of His Own Concentration. The Object Could Be Concrete Or Abstract, Internal To The Body, Like A Chakra, Or External. There Were Infinite Types Of Samadhi, Which The Terrestrial Traditions Had Tried To Catalogue, Generally In Eight, Calling Them Jhana, Or Simply Samadhi. However Every Samadhi That Took As Object Something Other Than The Inner Feeling Of The «I» Did Not Lead To The Realization Of The Divinity Inherent In The Being. The Reason Was Simple: The Nature Of Existence Was Pure Awareness. Attention Itself Was God. When One Observed The «I» With All The Power Of One's Own Attention, The Latter — The Awareness That Observed — Transformed The «I» Into Itself, That Is Into Awareness. In That Process, The Ego, Which Was Nothing Other Than The Thought «I», Was Absorbed By The Very Act Of Observation Until It Dissolved Into The Universal Witness.

The State Of Sahaja Samadhi With Effort, Where The «I» Was Almost Entirely Extinguished, Marked Entry Into The Seventh Density. At That Point One Had To Eliminate All The Residues Of The Karmic Traces, All The Desires, Even The Most Minute, And All Dualistic Thoughts, Including Every Conception Of Reality, Until Absolute Union With The Source. Then The Ego Was Extinguished Forever, And Existence Continued Without An Agent, As Impersonal Consciousness: An Indescribable Spiral, Inconceivable To Any Mind, Including That Of Maitreya.

The Tantric Methods Tried, By Force, To Make The Energies Of The Lunar Channels, Ida, And The Solar Ones, Pingala, Converge In The Heart. Making Them Converge In The Crown Chakra, Sahasrara, Would Not Have Led To True Samadhi. The Direct Method Obtained The Same Result Without That Force.
In The Human Body, Between The Two Breasts, Below The Chest And Above The Abdomen, There Were Six Organs Of Different Colors And, Two Fingers Toward The Right, The Heart. It Was Upside Down And Inside It Was A Tiny Orifice, Seat Of A Dense Darkness Full Of Desires: The Seat Of Pure Consciousness. From That Point Radiated All The Psychic Nerves, The Nadis.
The Thought «I» Was A Reflected Ray Of Pure Consciousness But, Unlike The Other Thoughts, Devoid Of Consciousness, It Was Always Directly Connected To Its Source, Pure Consciousness, Or The Heart. Therefore When Attention Immersed Itself Ever More Deeply Along The Reflected Ray Of The Thought «I», The Length Of The Reflection, That Is The Thought «I», Diminished Ever More, Until It Disappeared Completely, Until Reaching The Orifice Of The Heart, The Center Of All The Psychic Nerves And Of Pure Consciousness.
One Was Not, In The Direct Method, To Concentrate Directly On The Physical Center Of The Chest. One Was To Seek To Become One With The Inner Feeling Of The «I» Or, Equivalently, With Feeling The Whole Body From Within.
Maitreya Knew That, Despite The Efforts Of The Great Incarnated Masters — Jesus, Or Rather Sananda, And The Buddha, Whose True Identity Was That Of A Pleiadian Named Eihol — Only A Few Had Grasped The True Essence Of The Teachings. Jesus Had Often Said That The Body Was The True Temple. The Historical Buddha Repeated That By Seeking The «I» One Discovered That It Did Not Really Exist. Men Had Not

However Succeeded In Accepting Those Teachings, Because They Denied What They Believed Themselves To Be, Their Ego. They Had Distorted The Words Of The Great Sages, Creating Doctrines And Imposing, With The Religions, Questionable Rules.

In Recent Times Only Two Starseeds, Ramana Maharshi And Eckhart Tolle, Had Succeeded In Revitalizing Those Teachings, Dedicating Their Whole Life To The True Path.

To Acquire The Capacity Not To Give Energy To One's Own Thoughts, And The Strength To Remain Concentrated On The Source Of The Thought «I», An Enormous Amount Of Time Was Needed, And Wisdom. One Had To Let Fall Every Preconception About Reality, Every Attachment, Every Desire. Beings Of High Density Obtained That Wisdom By Incarnating, Or By Observing The Experiences Of Those Who Incarnated. Living The Lessons Firsthand Was, Naturally, More Effective.

Maitreya Had Incarnated On Earth Hundreds Of Times As A Starseed. He Had Spent Entire Lives, Which To A Terrestrial Mind Would Have Seemed Wasted, To Evolve In A Single Aspect. There Had Been A Life In Which He Had Felt A Very Strong Attachment To Gold. In Particular, There Was A Necklace Of Fine Workmanship That Sebastian, The Human Name Of That Incarnation, Never Wanted To Take Off, For Fear Of Losing It. He Spent Almost The Whole Day Thinking Of That Necklace, Contemplating Its Beauty And That Of Other Jewels, Neglecting The Family He Had Meanwhile Formed. Until, Through A Series Of Apparently Unfortunate Events, Which In Reality Had Allowed Him To Evolve, Sebastian Had Lost All His Wealth. He Had Fallen Into A Deep Depression. The Desire To Die Had Become Ever More Intense. One Evening, Closing His Eyes To Lie Down, He Had Imagined Dying. He Had Imagined Disappearing: All His Past No Longer Existed, All His Future, With Hopes And Fears, Was Dissolving. He Had Imagined The

Soul Leaving The Body, The Possessions, The Relatives. He Had Imagined The Soul Leaving The Physical Form Itself, And All The Mental Constructs, The Stories That The Mind Had Built. At A Certain Point A Thought Struck Him Like Lightning, And The Mind Elaborated It In An Instant: «Very Well, Death Has Come. What Is Death? What Is It That Dies? It Is This Body That Is Dying. Let It Die.» Deciding Thus, Closing The Lips Tightly, Remaining Without Breath Or Word Like A Corpse, What Was Revealed To Sebastian Was This: «This Body Is Dead. It Will Become Ashes. But With The Destruction Of This Body, Am I Too Destroyed? Am I Really This Body? Although I Lie Like A Corpse, Without Word And Without Breath, I Exist, Untouched By This Death. My Existence Shines, Clear And Unobstructed. Therefore This Perishable Body Is Not I. I Am The Immortal I. Of All Things, I Alone Am Reality. This Body Is Subject To Death. But I, Who Transcend It, Live Eternally. Even The Death That Has Come To The Body Has Not Succeeded In Touching Me.»

That Experience Radically Changed Sebastian's Life. From That Day He Lived Knowing That, Even If Someone Called Him By The Lowest And Most Humiliating Names, He Would Remain Deeply Convinced Of Being God: Once His Inner Judge Had Pronounced That Verdict, The Judgment Would No Longer Change. He Had Learned That What In The Heart One Believes Oneself To Be, That One Becomes.

And Yet The Incarnation That Maitreya Remembered With Most Joy Was The One In Which He Had Met His Mentor And Protector: A Being Of The Seventh Density Who Had Decided To Remain Beside Him Until He Too Had Reached The Seventh Density. Beings Who Reached The Last Degree Of Consciousness Could Appear In Any Place Of Space And Time Without Their Vibrational Field Being Affected By The Environment. On Rare Occasions They Decided To Incarnate, As The Archangel Uriel Had Done With Trump, But They Could Also Walk On Earth In

Their Higher Form. Once A Being Of The Seventh Density Chose A Disciple, Who Could Also Be Other Than The Eternal Companion Or The Children, That Bond Remained Solid And Lasting, Even Stronger Than A Bond Of Blood: A Bond Of Light.
In That Incarnation Maitreya Was Called Draco, And He Was A Tibetan. His Occupation Was Making Singing Bowls, Composed Of A Mixture Of Certain Metals That Emitted Particular Frequencies. Life Went On Normally. He Was A Family Man, With Two Daughters And A Wife. One Day, After The Age Of Thirty, A Mysterious Woman Presented Herself Before Him, Who Commissioned A Bowl Of Particular Dimensions And Materials. He Insisted A Little: He Had Been Making Bowls For Years, And Those Measurements, Those Materials, He Thought, Would Not Produce A Melodious Sound And Vibration. But The Woman, In Her Forties, Her Face Full Of Wrinkles And Her Eyes Luminous Like The Sun, Drew Out Sparkling Gold Coins And Paid In Advance. Draco Could Not But Accept. The Woman, Whose Name Was Ayo, Also Paid For Board And Lodging, To Remain With Draco's Family Until The Bowl Was Completed.
Ayo Was Unusual, And Mysterious. She Had Penetrating And Intelligent Eyes, And Always Seemed In Excellent Spirits. She Was Friendly With Everyone, Especially With Draco's Daughters And Wife. To Him, However, She Did Not Entirely Add Up. It Seemed To Him That She Was Hiding Something. Moreover, Every Time He Spent Time With Her, His Mind Became Strangely Silent. In Those Moments It Was As If His Consciousness And Ayo's Became One, And He Experienced An Incredible Peace. When She Went Away, However, A Sudden Fear Of Dying Awoke In Draco's Heart, And It Took Him Hours To Return To Normal. He Feared That Ayo Might Be Some Kind Of Witch.
One Day, While He Was Hammering The Iron, Ayo Appeared Before Him, Agile As A Cat. The Craftsman Was So Taken Aback

That He Almost Thought Of Hitting Her With The Hammer. But She, As If She Had Foreseen The Reaction, Did Not Lose Her Composure, And Said Only: «Are You Ready To Die?»

She Did Not Give Him Time To Answer. With A Lightning Movement She Touched Draco's Forehead With Her Index Finger, At The Point Between The Eyebrows. A Second Later, Draco Found Himself Catapulted Into Another World.

After Ayo's Touch, Draco Closed His Eyes Spontaneously. The Perception Of His Body Had Suddenly Changed: He No Longer Felt He Had A Body Made Of Flesh, But Of Space. His Consciousness Had Suddenly Poured Into Every Cell Of His Body, Like Water Into A Crystal Pitcher, Without A Point Remaining Outside. Draco Felt His Whole Body From Within As If It Were Space.

Not Only Had The Perception Of His Body Changed. His Gaze Was Fixed, Drawn Like A Magnet To Iron, On The Point Between The Eyebrows. Many Times, Before Falling Asleep, Draco Had Stared Into The Darkness Behind The Eyelids, But Now It Was As If He Felt The Dark And Undifferentiated Space In Front Of Him Had Become Part Of His Body.

The Black Before The Eyes And The Space Of His Body Were No Longer Distinct: They Had Fused Into A Single Perception, Without Inside Or Outside. His Attention Settled Naturally On That Undifferentiated Consciousness Which Pervaded The Space Inside And Outside His Body, And His Sense Of The «I» Fused With The Perception Of That Consciousness.

In That Moment, In Which Inner Space, Outer Space And Feeling Of The «I» Had Become One, All Concepts About Reality, Including Spatial And Temporal Orientation, Gave Way At Once: Draco Was No Longer Immersed In An Ocean Of Consciousness; He Had Become An Ocean Of Consciousness. Draco Was No Longer That Fellow Named Draco. Draco Was No Longer A Body. Draco Had Become Consciousness.

When He Opened His Eyes, Ayo Had Disappeared. She Was Nowhere To Be Found. Mystery Of Mysteries: Neither His Wife Nor His Children Remembered Ever Having Seen A Woman Named Ayo. His Relatives Thought That Draco Had Gone Mad.
He Too Was On The Point Of Doubting, And Of Believing That He Really Had Gone Mad. Fortunately, However, The Gold That The Woman Had Given Him Was Still There, And The Bowl Too, Although He Had Not Yet Finished It, Lay On His Work Table. Draco Decided To Complete The Bowl And, To His Great Astonishment, Discovered That It Was A Magical Bowl: Sounded And Placed Against The Body, It Could Heal Every Illness. Thus Draco Became One Of The Most Famous Healers And Makers Of Tibetan Singing Bowls In Tibet.
Maitreya Felt A Certain Nostalgia At Remembering His Mentor. Once Awakened In His Light Chamber, He Had Sought Her, And Had Found Her In Her True Light Identity.
After That Incarnation There Had Been Others, In Which He Had Had To Come To Terms With His Spiritual Ego And His Need To Measure Himself Against Others, Until, In A Certain Life, He Had Finally Reached Stable Abiding In Sahaja Samadhi, And Entry Into The Seventh Density. Ayo, In Her True Light Identity, Had Always Been Beside Him. She Manifested Sometimes As A Stranger In The Street, Other Times As Someone Who Served Him A Drink At The Bar, And Every Time She Advised Him, And If Necessary Corrected Him, So That His Consciousness Could Rise Ever Higher.
In That Path Of Highs And Lows Maitreya Had Learned Wisdom And Compassion. He Had Learned That No One, Not Even The Highest Consciousnesses, Was Perfect, And That Only Experience, And The Help Of Authentic Masters, Could Guide Evolution. It Was For This Reason That He Now Felt A Great Desire To Help The Terrestrials, Especially Those Who Would Miss The Shift. In An Instant, At The Command Of Elder Ikai, Reality Would Split In Two: The Pure Of Heart Transported Into A World Of Light, The Wicked Forced To Inhabit A Planet Near Destruction. And Yet Whoever Missed The Shift At First, Starseed Or Terrestrial, Would Be Able To Ascend Later, If He Succeeded In Repenting Deeply, With The Heart, And Not With The Mind.

In The End, While Maitreya's Inner Eye Continued To Scan The Activities On Earth, The Right Idea Appeared In His Mind: How He Could Help As Many People As Possible, Without Increasing His Karma Too Much.

Patrizio, Whose True Light Identity Was Bacalem Jotacahos, That Evening Had Not Slept At All Well. There Had Been Strange Dreams, With A Fellow Named Maitreya Who Had Told Him Absurd Things About A Change Of Density That Would Soon Sweep Over The Earth. He Was Still Confused While He Took The Bicycle To Go To The Office.
At The Office Patrizio Could Not Work. Fortunately That Was A Rather Quiet Period For Him. At A Certain Point He Could Not Help Following A Strong Impulse: He Opened Word, And Began To Write. The Words Floated Dancing On The Screen, As If They Did Not Come From Him. He Read The First Sentences: «Maitreya Had His Eyes Closed And Was Completely Immersed In The Light. In That Silent And Limitless Consciousness There Was No Sense Of Identity. There Was No Space, There Was No Time, There Was No I. There Was Only The Source, Being, The One, God: Whatever Name One Wished To Give It.» And Immediately He Realized That It Was Not He Who Was Writing. It Was A Fellow Who Had Taken Possession Of His Mind, And Whose Name Was Maitreya.

EXTRACT FROM «THE SHEEN CODE» AND «THE TAROT OF THE SPIRIT»

I Have Chosen To Insert In This Book A Meditation That I Have Titled «Meditation Of The Spirit». It Is An Extract From My Spiritual Novel «The Sheen Code», An Inner Thriller In Which This Same Practice Appears Under The Name Of «Sadhana Of The Shift» And Is Commented On In Depth Within The Narrative. This Text Also Appears In The Other Book «The Tarot Of The Spirit» And Is What Binds This Kind Of Trilogy, Composed Of «The Sheen Code», «The Tarot Of The Spirit» And Now «Maitreya».

As A Meditator And Spiritual Researcher, I Have Always Desired To Be Able To Gather In A Single, Brief Experience The Most Important And Transformative Teachings On Meditation. To Realize This Desire I Created This Simple And Essential Sadhana: A Guided Practice In The Form Of Yoga Nidra.

Yoga Nidra, Also Known As «Conscious Yogic Sleep», Is A Technique Of Deep Relaxation In Which, Lying In The Supine Position, One Is Gently Guided Toward A State Of Complete Abandonment Of Body And Mind, While Maintaining At The Same Time A Lucid And Vigilant Awareness. It Is One Of The Most Powerful And Accessible Practices For Dissolving Accumulated Tensions, Calming The Nervous System And Accessing Subtler Dimensions Of Consciousness.

This Sadhana Arises From The Synthesis Of The Teachings Of Some Great Masters Of Our Time, Among Them Ramana Maharshi, Eckhart Tolle, Swami Satyananda Saraswati, Shri Shivabalayogi And Many Others.

The «Meditation Of The Spirit» Can Be Used In Two Principal Ways: The First Consists In Reading The Text As A Normal Spiritual Book, Assimilating With Calm And Presence The Teachings Contained In It; The Second Consists In Listening To A Recording Of It While Remaining Lying In The Position Of Shavasana, With The Arms Slightly Away From The Body And The Palms Turned Upward. The Text Can Be Prerecorded On One's Own Phone And Listened To Comfortably With Headphones, Or Read Aloud By Another Person While One Abandons Oneself Completely To Relaxation.

MEDITATION OF THE SPIRIT

PREPARATION

Lie Down With Your Back On The Floor And Assume The Position Of SHAVASANA.

In This Position, The Body Is Aligned From Head To Feet, The Legs Are Slightly Apart, And The Arms Are A Little Away From The Body, With The Palms Of The Hands Facing Upwards.

Adjust The Position Of Your Body So That You Can Then Remain Motionless Throughout The Practice.

In The Following Practice, You Must Try To Completely Relax The Body. It Is Not Necessary To Move Or Deliberately Relax The Muscles; You Simply Need To Develop The Feeling Of Relaxation. It Is The Same Feeling One Has Just Before Falling Asleep. When Relaxation Becomes Deep, Sleep May Come, But In This Case, You Must Try To Remain Completely Awake.

Therefore, Be Aware That You Are About To Begin The Practice Of YOGA NIDRA. No Concentration Is Necessary, No Mental Effort. The Only Important Thing Is To Maintain An Uninterrupted Flow Of Awareness Throughout The Duration Of The Practice. To Help With This, You May Resolve To Remain Awake And Alert For The Entire Duration Of The YOGA NIDRA Practice.

Repeat To Yourself: “I Will Remain Awake For The Entire Duration Of The YOGA NIDRA Practice.”

RELAXATION

And Now For A Few Moments, Direct Your Awareness To External Sounds. Start Listening To Every Sound Around You, Without Feeling Disturbed By The Presence Of These Sounds. And Keep The Awareness Moving, Shifting It From One Sound To Another, Listening To All The Sounds Present In The External

And Surrounding Environment. Familiarize Yourself With These Sounds: Listen To Them Intentionally. And Now Bring The Awareness Back To Your Body.
Feel The Contact Of The Body On The Floor. Perceive The Contact Of The Clothes On The Surface Of The Body And The Feeling That Arises From This Contact. Perceive The Immobility Of The Entire Body, And In The Immobility Of The Body, For A Few Moments Follow The Slow Rhythmic Flow Of The Breath.

CONNECTION WITH THE INNER BODY

Now Try To Connect With Your Inner Body. First, Become Aware Of The Space Occupied By Your Hands, Bring All Your Attention Inside Your Hands, Trying To Perceive The Space Occupied By The Hands, As If You Were Wearing A Glove Made Of Skin, And Wanted To Concentrate Your Attention On The Space Inside The Glove.
Try To Become Aware Of The Feeling Of Vitality Inside Your Hands, Even If Initially It Might Be Just Tingling. If You Keep Your Attention Inside Your Hands For A While, The Feeling Of Vitality Will Intensify.
Now Move To The Feet, Keep Your Attention Inside Your Feet And Then Start To Perceive The Hands And Feet Simultaneously.
Now Incorporate The Other Parts Of The Body: First The Legs, Then The Arms, The Abdomen, The Chest, The Head, Until You Become Aware Of The Totality Of Your Body From The Inside, As A Single Sense Of Vitality, As One Energy Field.
At This Point, Try To Hold This Sensation, The Feeling Of The Whole Body From Within, Throughout The Rest Of The Practice.

OBSERVATION OF THOUGHTS

Now Shift Your Awareness Into CHIDAKASHA, The Space Located Behind The Forehead, Between The Eyebrows. For A Few Moments, Simply Observe This Inner Space, And Then

Gradually Become Aware Of Your Thoughts. Do Not Lose Contact With The Perception Of The Inner Space Of The Body, Because If You Keep Your Attention Inside The Body, Your Thoughts Will Automatically Slow Down: Part Of Your Attention Is Directed Toward The Body And Not Toward The Mind, Which Consequently Becomes Weaker.

Observe Your Thoughts With Detachment. Know This Truth Now, And Keep It: You Are Not Your Mind, Nor Are You Any Of Your Thoughts Or Any Of Your Stories. Everything You Have Told Yourself, About Your Life, Your Intentions, Your Purposes, Is A Mental Construct.

So, If You Are Not Your Mind, And You Truly Become Convinced Of This, What Difference Does It Make Whether Your Mind Is Calm Or Agitated? What Difference Does It Make Whether Good Or Bad Thoughts Arise? You Are Not Your Mind.

You Are The Presence Behind The Thoughts, The Silent Observer: You Are That Which Is Aware Of The Thoughts, You Are Awareness, You Are Consciousness.

In Reality, The Mind As An Autonomous, Separate Entity Has Never Truly Existed: It Is Like A Rope Mistaken For A Snake. The Snake May Seem To Exist, But In Truth It Has Always Been Only A Rope. To Make The Illusion Disappear, You Must Stop Believing In It, You Must Stop Believing That You Are Your Mind! “I Am Not The Mind, The Mind Does Not Exist. Only Consciousness Exists, And I Am That!” If You Hold This Firm Conviction That This Alone Is The Truth, One Day That Firm Conviction Will Ripen To The Point Of Becoming Your Direct Experience.

Continue To Observe Your Thoughts With Detachment. Do Not Judge Any Of Them. Keep Watching Them From A Distance, Without Labeling Them As Good Or Bad, Right Or Wrong.

Struggling Against Your Thoughts Only Strengthens Them. The Secret To Gaining Mastery Over The Mind Is To Observe Your Thoughts From Afar, Treating Them Like External Sounds, Without Identifying With Them, Without Giving Them A Sense Of “Me” Or Identity. Pretend Your Thoughts Are Butterflies: Butterflies Are Flying Around Your Head And You Gently Brush Them Away, Delicately, Without Any Intention Of Harming Them!

As Long As You Consider Your Thoughts Important, You Will Not Be Able To Disidentify From Them. Therefore, Do Not Give Them Importance! When You No Longer Regard Your Thoughts As Important, When You Stop Believing The Voice Inside Your Head, You Automatically Deprive Them Of Energy.

The Mind Will Always Try To Deceive You, As If The Police Chief Himself Were The Thief! The Mind, The Ego, Is A Kind Of Phantom That Has Taken Possession Of You, Feeding On Your Attention And Energy. You Cannot Fight A Phantom That Ultimately Does Not Exist; Doing So Would Only Reinforce The Illusion. You Can Only Let The Phantom Die By Ceasing To Believe The Stories That Keep Repeating Inside Your Head.

Not Giving Attention Or Importance To Your Thoughts Is Like Ceasing To Water A Plant: Sooner Or Later It Will Dry Up And Die.

It Is Only Your Interest In The Voice Inside Your Head, That Is, Your Thoughts, That Keeps The Mind Alive! If You Completely Lose Interest In Your Mental Content, Very Soon The Mind Will Evaporate, Leaving Space For Your True Essence: Formless Awareness.

So Allow Thoughts To Arise However They Want, While Continuing To Observe Them With Detachment. If Some Image Emerges From The Unconscious, Let It Appear Without Trying To Change It, Simply Watch It Arise And Then Disappear, Without Dwelling On It, Without Giving It Attention (That Is, Energy). Keep Gently Brushing The Thoughts Away As If They Were Butterflies, While Remaining Present Inside The Space Of Your Whole Body.

Now, Instead Of Brushing The Butterflies Away, Imagine That As Soon As They Land On Your Body They Simply Evaporate.
A Thought-Butterfly Appears In Your Energy Field, That Is, In Your Inner Perception Of The Body, And The Moment It Lands It Turns Into Smoke And Evaporates.
Another Thought-Butterfly Manifests In Your Awareness And Immediately Evaporates.
At A Certain Point All The Thought-Butterflies Have Vanished Into Nothingness, Turned Into Smoke. Now, Where Is The Thinker?
Search For The One Who Is Thinking. Direct Your Attention Toward The Thinker.
Has He Perhaps Vanished Along With The Last Butterfly? If The Thinker Is Still Present Within You, Continue With YOGA NIDRA.

EXPERIENCING ENLIGHTENMENT

Now Formulate Your Resolve: “May I Attain Enlightenment For The Benefit Of All Sentient Beings, Because All Sentient Beings Have Been Our Mothers In The Infinite Cycle Of Life.”
Supreme Happiness Is The Absence Of All Desire. Actually, Happiness Is The Freedom To Observe One’s Desires With Detachment, Without Being Forced To Pursue Them. Not All Desires Must Be Discarded: The Desires To Avoid Are Only Those Bound By Craving For External Objects. The Desire That Arises During One’s Natural Functions, Devoid Of Craving, Does Not Lead To Bondage. How Could Anyone Meditate If They Were Continually Hungry, Continually Cold, Or Continually Needing To Go To The Bathroom?
That Said, Learn To Use The Power Of Desire To Your Advantage, Which Is The Fuel Of The Universe Itself. How?

Desire Liberation And Enlightenment Now, With Your Whole Being. Enlightenment Is Seeking You With The Same Intensity As You Are Seeking It.
Desire Enlightenment With Your Whole Being.
To Attain Enlightenment, It Would Certainly Be Easier To Renounce Everything, Go To A Monastery And Meditate All Day; However, There Is A Reason Why The Absolute, Which Is You Yourself, Has Decided This Life For You. Even If It Is Difficult, Learn To Remain Detached From Everything, Without Desires, While Living In The World.
To Be Sure Of The Sincerity Of Your Detachment, Ask Yourself This Question: “For Enlightenment, Right Now, Would I Be Willing To Go Live In A Monastery – Renouncing All My Possessions And My Relatives – To Meditate All Day? For Enlightenment, Would I Be Willing To Die Right Now?”
But What Is Enlightenment? Enlightenment Is The Total Annihilation Of Everything You Think You Are. Enlightenment Is Never Of The Person, But It Is The Total Disappearance Of Individuality. It Is The Disappearance Of The Seeker, The Ultimate Disappointment Of The Ego. So, Try To Die Now. Let Your Ego Die Now. Not In A Year, A Day, A Month. Now. Right Now. Right In This Moment.
You Are On Your Deathbed, Your Soul Is About To Leave Your Body, It Is About To Fly Away Towards The Only Impersonal Consciousness. You Are Disappearing: Your Past, With All Your Stories, No Longer Exists. Your Future, With All Your Hopes And Fears, Has Just Dissolved. You Are About To Leave All Your Possessions, You Are About To Leave All Your Relatives, You Are About To Leave Everything And Everyone. Your Very Physical Form And All The Mental Constructs You Have Clung To Throughout Your Existence Are Disappearing.

There, Now You Are Dead, There Is Nothing Left, There Is No One Left. Your Body Has Disappeared, Yet Your Presence Is Still There, Radiant And Fully Aware.
Therefore, Turn Your Attention To Yourself, To Your Own Radiant Awareness, And Immerse Yourself, Here And Now, In The Infinite Ocean Of Spirit. Take Your I, Your Sense Of Self, And Drown It Completely In The Sea Of Consciousness. Expand Your Being Completely Beyond Every Boundary, Beyond Every Place, Without Maintaining Any Point Of Reference. Dissolve Like Snow In The Sun, Becoming One With Space, Without Opposing Any Resistance.
Have You Become Enlightened? Have You At Least Managed To Experience An Instant Of Pure Awareness, Of Consciousness Without Thoughts?
If You Have Not Succeeded, Continue With YOGA NIDRA.

PERCEPTION OF THE BODY FROM WITHIN

Bring All Your Attention Inside The Feet, Feel Them From Within As A Single Field Of Energy. Perceive The Space Occupied By Your Feet, The Vital Energy Present Inside Them.
Now Shift Your Attention To The Space Occupied By Your Legs: From The Ankles Up To The Pelvis. Feel Your Legs From Within, As A Single Sensation. Bring All Your Attention, All Your Awareness, Inside Your Legs.
Now Shift Your Attention To The Lower Part Of The Torso: In The Abdomen, The Hips, The Belly. Perceive This Entire Area Of The Body From The Inside; Flood The Space Occupied By The Lower Torso With Awareness.
Now Move Your Attention Upward, Toward The Upper Part Of The Torso. Perceive The Entire Chest From The Inside, As A Single Energy Field. Let The Attention Penetrate Deeply Into This Perception: The Perception Of The Space Occupied By Your Chest.

Now Go To The Hands. Feel The Space Occupied By Your Hands, Become Aware Of The Subtle Sensation Of Vitality Within Them. Feel From Within All The Fingers Distinctly, With Awareness Diffused Throughout The Entire Space Occupied By The Hands.
Now Turn To The Arms. Perceive Both Your Arms, From The Wrists Up To The Shoulders, From The Inside. Let Your Awareness Spread Within The Entire Space Occupied By The Arms.
Now Perceive The Vital Energy Contained Inside The Head. Perceive The Entire Head From The Inside As A Single Energy Field.
Now Let Your Attention Scan The Entire Body Like A Wave, Three Times, From The Feet To The Head And Then Back Again. Let Awareness Enter The Toes Of Both Feet And, Slowly, Feeling The Body From Within, Let The Awareness Flow Upward: Up Through The Ankles, Calves, Knees, Thighs. In The Pelvis, Reunite The Awareness That Has Ascended Through The Two Legs.
Then, Beginning To Perceive The Fingers Of The Hands As Well, Let The Awareness Rise Upward, Like A Trident, Through The Two Hands And The Torso. The Awareness Rises Simultaneously In The Belly And The Forearms, Passes Through The Chest And The Upper Arms. At The Height Of The Shoulders, The Awareness From The Hands And That From The Torso Unite, Continuing To Rise Up To The Top Of The Head.
Now Feel The Whole Body From Within, In Its Totality, As A Single Field Of Energy. Become Intensely Present In Every Cell Of Your Body.
Now That The Feeling Of The Body From Within Has Stabilized, That Your Attention Is Diffused Simultaneously In Every Cell Of Your Body As A Single Feeling, Bring Your Attention Even Deeper Into This Feeling. Become One With It. Merge With The Energy Field Of Your Body, So That There Is No Longer Duality Between Observer And Observed, Between You And Your Body. Now You Are Completely Immersed In The Ocean Of Spirit, In The Feeling Of The Whole Body From Within. There Is No Longer Any Separation: There Is Only This Awareness, This Silence, That You Yourself Are.

OBSERVATION OF EMOTIONS

Previously, You Practiced The Observation Of Thoughts; Now It Is Time To Practice The Observation Of Emotions. According To Eckhart Tolle, The Mind – That Entity That Inhabits Your Consciousness And Is Formed By A Set Of Thoughts And Stories Intertwined Around The Idea Of The "I" – Does Not Include Only Thoughts, But Also Emotions. Emotions, Explains The Spiritual Master, Arise At The Point Where Mind And Body Meet And Represent A Reflection Of The Mind In The Body. A Thought Of Hatred Toward Someone, For Example, Produces In The Body A Charge Of Energy Called Anger.

Emotions Are Often An Amplified And Energized Set Of Thoughts, That Is, The Physical Expression Of One Of The Many Inner Narratives You Tell Yourself. A Set Of Thoughts Linked, For Example, To The Fear Of Not Being Up To Par At Work – Like "I Might Make A Mistake," "Maybe I'm Not Capable Enough," "Others Will Notice" – Creates In The Body A Specific Sensation, Which In This Case Manifests As Anxiety. And The More Unaware You Are, The More The Flow Of Thoughts And The Emotion That Accompanies Them Empower Each Other, Giving Rise To A Vicious Cycle. Continuing To Ruminate On The Situation That Originated The Emotion Intensifies It; At The Same Time, The Emotion, Manifesting In The Body, Fuels Further Thoughts That Add To The Initial Ones.

As With Thoughts, Emotions Should Also Be Observed With Detachment. However, In The Practice Of Observing Emotions,

The Connection With The Inner Body Becomes Even More Important. It Is As If The Emotion, Born From A Network Of Thoughts, Deposits Itself In The Cells Of The Body. After All, Thoughts And Emotions Are Nothing But Forms Of Vibration, And The Cells Of The Body Also Vibrate: This Is Why It Is Not Surprising That They Can Interact So Deeply With Each Other.
To Practice, Bring Your Attention Inward, Feeling Your Whole Body From Within As A Single Energy Field. Feel The Energy Of The Emotion And Let It Be As It Is, While Maintaining A Certain Inner Distance. There Is You, The Power Of Your Presence, And There Is The Energy Of The Emotion. In This Way, Gradually, The Emotion Transforms Into Pure Conscious Energy. In Fact, Everything That Is Exposed To The Light Of Consciousness, That Is, To Attention, Becomes Consciousness Itself.

SHELL MEDITATION

Now Begin To Experience Your Body As A Shell, Empty Inside. The Shell Is Your Skin: A Skin Of Crystal, Of Transparent Glass, Like That Of A Bottle. The Space Inside Your Body Is Black. The Space Outside, Around You, Is Black.
Now Begin To Experience The Internal Space That Permeates Your Entire Body. Experience The Space Of The Entire Body. It Is The Same Space That Pervades The Upper Part Of The Body And That Also Pervades The Lower Part Of Your Body.
Look Inside And See Space: The Space Of The Entire Body. Experience The Space That Pervades The Whole Body, From The Top Of The Head To The Tips Of The Fingers Of The Hands, To The Tips Of The Toes.
Develop Awareness Of The Body As A Shell, Permeated With Space Inside, Enveloped By Space Outside. And, As You Become Aware Of This Space, Experience The Sensations Of Calm, Silence, And Immobility, Associated With The Awareness Of The Internal Space Of The Body.

BREATHING

Now Begin To Develop Awareness Of The Breath And Expand This Awareness To The Surface Of The Entire Body. Your Entire Body Is Inhaling, Your Entire Body Is Exhaling. Experience The Breath Of The Entire Body And With Each Inhalation Associate The Sensation Of Expansion, With Each Exhalation The Sensation Of Relaxation.

Inhale And Experience The Expansion Of The Entire Internal Space. Exhale And Experience The Relaxation Of The Entire Internal Space.

Expansion And Relaxation To The Rhythm Of The Breath.

And With The Inhalation Perceive The Expansion And Feel The Internal Space Fill With PRANA And Energy. With Each Inhalation Be Aware Of The Prana That Penetrates The Body. See Particles Of Light, Rays Of Light Moving In All Directions Within The Internal Space Of The Body. With Each Inhalation The Internal Space Expands With Light And Energy, With Each Exhalation It Relaxes.

THE FIVE PRANAS

Let Go Of The Awareness Of The Breath, Starting To Develop Awareness Of VYANA In The Form Of Points Of Light And Rays Of Light That Move In Every Direction Within The Entire Body. Your Entire Body From The Top Of The Head To The Toes Is Permeated With Particles Of Light, Flows Of Light That Move In Every Direction.

Now Begin To Develop Awareness Of UDANA In The Extremities Of The Body. See UDANA Moving Within The Legs, Within The Arms, Within The Head In The Form Of Circles Of Light. See Circular Movements Of Light And Energy In All The Extremities Of The Body. Experience UDANA In The Form Of A Circular Flow Of Energy.

Now Become Aware Of PRANA, Of The Movement Of Energy Within The Chest Area, From The Diaphragm To The Larynx. See Waves Of Light, Like Ocean Waves, Flowing Upward During Inhalation From The Diaphragm To The Neck And Then Flowing Downward With Exhalation. Experience Waves Of Light That Permeate The Entire Chest Area.

Finally, Develop The Perception Of APANA, Located Between The Navel And The Perineum, In The Lower Abdomen. Experience APANA As A Wave, As A Flow Of Luminous Energy That Moves Downward, From The Navel To The Perineum With Each Inhalation, And Then Upward With Each Exhalation. Intensify The Awareness Of The Movement Of APANA Between The Navel And The Perineum.

5 ELEMENTS

Now Leave This Form Of Awareness And Begin To Awaken In Yourselves The Perception Of The Five Main Elements Or TATTWA: Starting With The Earth Element And Then Proceeding With The Water, Fire, Air, And Ether Elements.

The Image That Represents The EARTH Element Is Given By A Square Of Yellow Light. And You Can See Or Imagine This Yellow Square Located In The Physical Area Between The Knees And The Feet. See The Four Sides Of The Square, Symbol Of Stability. Develop The Perception Of This Yellow Square Located Between Knees And Feet. See It Clearly In Its Shape And Color.

And Now Mentally Begin To Repeat The Mantra Associated With The EARTH Element, The Mantra LAM. Repeat It Rhythmically And With Awareness A Few Times: LAM, LAM, LAM.
Leave The Repetition Of The Mantra And Begin To Awaken The Perception Of The WATER Element. This Element Is Represented By A Horizontal Crescent Moon Of White Light Between The Knees And The Navel. You Can See This Crescent Moon Between The Knees And The Navel. See The Outlines Of This Moon, Symbol Of Fluidity. Develop The Perception Of The Crescent Moon Symbol. See It Clearly In Its Shape And Color.
And Now Mentally Begin To Repeat The Mantra Associated With The Water Element, The Mantra VAM. Repeat It Rhythmically And With Awareness: VAM, VAM, VAM.
Leave The Repetition Of The Mantra And Now Awaken The Perception Of The FIRE Element. This Element Is Represented By A Triangle Of Red Light With The Vertex Pointing Downward. You Can See This Inverted Red Triangle In The Area Located Between The Navel And The Heart. See The Sides Of This Red Light Triangle, Symbol Of Great Heat. Through This Element, Energy Manifests In The Form Of Light And Heat. Develop The Perception Of The FIRE Element In The Form Of An Inverted Red Triangle Located Between Navel And Heart. See It Clearly In Its Shape And Color.
And Maintaining This Image, Mentally Begin To Repeat The Mantra Associated With The Fire Element, The Mantra RAM. Repeat It Rhythmically And With Awareness: RAM, RAM, RAM.
Leave The Repetition Of The Mantra And Begin To Awaken The Perception Of The AIR Element. This Element Is Represented By A Sky-Blue Hexagon. Its Nature Is Movement. It Is Located In The Area Between The Heart And The Center Between The Eyebrows. You Can Also See It In The Form Of 6 Points Of Blue Light That Give Rise To A Hexagonal Shape. See The Air Element In The Form Of A Sky-Blue Hexagon Between The Heart And The

And Maintaining This Image, Begin The Mental Repetition Of The Mantra Associated With The Air Element, The Mantra YAM. Repeat It Rhythmically And With Awareness: YAM, YAM, YAM.

Leave The Repetition Of The Mantra And Develop The Perception Of The ETHER Element. The ETHER Element Which Is Pure Energy, Which Is The Space In Which Matter Becomes Manifest. This Element Is Located At The Top Of The Head, From The Center Between The Eyebrows All Around The Top Of The Head. See The ETHER Element In The Form Of A Large Black Circle Filled With Multicolored Points. Visualize The Circle And The Multicolored Points Within It. See It Clearly In Its Shape And Colors. And Now Begin To Repeat The Mantra Associated With The Ether Element, The Mantra HAM. Repeat It Rhythmically And Consciously: HAM, HAM, HAM.

Now Concentrate On Pure Consciousness, Unbound From Any Image. Direct All Your Attention To Pure Consciousness, Awareness Without Object, While Feeling Your Whole Body From Within. Feel Your Own Presence, Try To Become One With Pure Consciousness. Immerse Yourself In Pure Consciousness And Begin To Repeat The Mantra OM, Remembering This Time That Pure Consciousness Is Nothing But The Source Of The Mantra Itself. Repeat It Rhythmically And Consciously: OM, OM, OM. Try To Merge With The Source Of The Mantra, To Become One With It.

You Will Become Everything You Believe You Are In Your Heart: Stop Considering Yourselves As Humans And Begin To Regard Yourselves As Divine. You Are God, You Are Brahman, Never Forget It. Stop Believing In Your Story, Of Being Just Any Ordinary Person. Whatever Your Condition, Social And Economic, Do Not Forget To Consider Yourselves Divine, To Always Consider Yourselves As The Supreme Being. You Are The

Source Of The Mantra, You Are The OM Diffused Throughout The Universe!

INNER SPACE

Now Suspend The Process And Transfer Your Awareness To CHIDAKASHA In The Space Located Behind The Forehead. For A Few Moments Observe This Inner Space And Everything That Expresses Or Manifests In CHIDAKASHA Emerging From The Depths Of Your Mind, As In The Following Meditation:

Close Your Eyes.
Concentrate The Mind And The Gaze Between The Eyebrows.
Do Not Move Eyelids Or Eyebrows.
Continue To Look At The Point Between The Eyebrows
Focusing Your Attention There.
Do Not Repeat Any Mantra Or Name.
Do Not Imagine Anything.

Continue To Look Inside The Space Between The Eyebrows, Allowing Any Image Or Thought To Appear And Then Disappear. When The Waves Of Images And Thoughts Have Calmed, Without Diverting Your Gaze Ask Yourself:

Who Is Watching?
Concentrate Your Attention On The One Who Is Watching.
Seek The Meditator,
Meditate On The Meditator.

WHO AM I?

That Said, Continue With YOGA NIDRA And Prepare For The Final Meditation.

Turn Your Mind Inward And Ask Yourself The Following Question: “Who Am I?”

You Do Not Need To Find An Answer To This Question. Rather, With Your Attention Turned Toward Yourself, Try To Grasp Your Sense Of «I».

Ask Yourself: “Now, What Is This Thing That Arises As «I»?”
Then, In Your Heart, A Sort Of Wordless Illumination Should Shine In The Form Of “I-I”. The Sensation Of Pure Consciousness Should Shine In Your Heart.
What You Think You Are Has Nothing To Do With Your Possessions, The Work You Do, Your Social Status, Your Education, Knowledge… It Has Nothing To Do With Your Physical Appearance, Your “Special Abilities”, Your Relationships, Your Personal Or Family History, Your Belief System, Whether Political, Nationalistic, Racial, Or Religious… All This Is Not You… You Are Not Even Your Body, Your Name.
“Who Am I?”
Focus Your Attention Inward, Inside Yourself, In Search Of The Origin Of The Thought, The Feeling, Of The «I».
If You Still Haven’t Managed To Find Anything, Mentally Repeat “I, I”.
Grasp What You Have Managed To Find, What Inside You Corresponds To The Feeling Of «I», And Cling To This Sensation. If Other Thoughts Should Arise, Do Not Pursue Them, Do Not Give Them Energy. No Matter How Important They May Seem, They Are Just Thoughts, They Are Like The Song Of The Sirens, They Try To Deceive You And Make You Think They Are Important, But They Are Just Thoughts.
“Who Am I?”
Focus Your Attention On The Source Of The Thought «I». If Other Thoughts Arise, Simply Discard Them, Do Not Give Them Attention, And Return To The Feeling, To The Source Of The «I».
If You Cannot Easily Return To The Inner Sensation Of The «I» Because You Have So Many Thoughts In Your Head, Ask Yourself: “To Whom Do These Thoughts Arise?” The Implicit Answer Will Be: “To Me”. Then Ask Yourself Again: “Who Am I?” In This Way, The Mind Will Return Again To Its Source.

Therefore, In Every Way, Try Not To Give Space To The Thoughts That Arise, Trying To Eliminate Them At The Root, Bringing Your Attention Back To The Source Of The «I» Thought. If You Give Them Even The Slightest Space, The Thoughts Would Multiply Endlessly, In Endless Chains Of Concepts. Eliminate The Chain Of Thought At The Root, Focusing Your Awareness On The Source Of The Sensation Of The «I».

Ramana Maharshi Said:

"Like A Diver Who Plunges Into Deep Water To Recover A Sunken Treasure, Controlling The Voice And Breath, Feeling The Whole Body From Within As A Single Energy Field, One Should Plunge Deeply Into Oneself In Search Of The Source Of The «I» Thought."

Put This Instruction Into Practice And Begin To Feel Your Whole Body From Within, As A Single Energy Field.

Become Aware Of The Whole Body As A Single Sensation, A Single Perception. At The Same Time, Focus All Your Attention On The Thought «I». Automatically, The Perception Of The Whole Body Will Narrow To A Single Point, The Source Of The Thought «I». In Reality, The Source Of The Thought «I» And The Feeling Of The Body From Within Are The Same Thing, Awareness Unbound From Form, Even Though The Perception Of The Entire Space Of The Body Probably Has More To Do With Relaxation, While Attention To The Source Of The I Thought Has More To Do With Concentration.

Now, Therefore, All The Light Of Your Presence, All Your Awareness Is Concentrated On The Thought «I».

Ignore Any Thoughts That May Arise In The Meantime And Continue To Immerse Yourself In The Depths Of Yourself, To Pursue The Thought «I».

Deeper And Deeper Inside Yourselves, Closer And Closer, More United With The Thought «I». Seek The Source Of The I Thought, Seek The Place From Which The Thought «I» Emerges.

Breathe Naturally, Remembering However That The Sages Associate Inhalation With The Search For The «I», The Pause Between Inhalation And Exhalation With Natural Abiding In The Self, And Exhalation With The Abandonment Of The Idea “I Am The Body”.

Therefore, While Inhaling, Try To Go Deeper And Deeper: Immerse Yourself Ever Deeper Inside Yourselves, Focusing With Even Greater Intensity On The Thought «I». When You Hold Your Breath And Then Exhale Again, Do Not Lose The Source Of The I Thought, Hold It Tightly In Your Mind.

In Hatha Yoga, It Is Said That One Should Stretch To One’s Maximum And Then Try To Stretch A Little More. In The Same Way, Try To Get As Close As You Can To The Thought «I», And Then Go A Little Deeper. The More The Force Of Attention On The Source Of The Thought «I» Increases, The More The Thought «I» Narrows. The Thought «I», In Fact, Is Nothing But A Reflected Ray Of Consciousness And, Unlike Other Thoughts, Which Are Devoid Of Consciousness, It Is Always Directly Connected To Its Source, Pure Consciousness. Therefore, When Your Attention Immerses Itself Deeper And Deeper Along The Reflected Ray Of The Thought «I», The Length Of The Reflection, That Is, The Thought «I», Decreases More And More, Until It Disappears Completely.

Therefore, Remain Like This For A Few Moments, Anchored To The Source Of The Sensation Of The «I».

Finally, Remember That Meditation Must Be Constant; In Reality, You Yourselves Must Become The Meditation, You Must Become The Meditation Technique. In Every Moment Of The Day, Therefore, Remember To Synchronize Mind And Body, That Is, Remember To Feel The Whole Body From Within As A Single Energy Field While Simultaneously Concentrating All Your Attention On The Thought «I».

CONCLUSION

Now Bring Your Awareness Back To Your Body, To The Entire Shape And Position Of The Body, Feel Again The Contact With The Floor, Perceive Your Inner Condition. Become Aware Of The Environment Around You. Begin Again To Listen To The External Sounds. The YOGA NIDRA Practice Is Now Concluded. Begin Gently And Slowly To Move Every Part Of Your Body. Take Your Time And When You Are Ready, Reopen Your Eyes And Return To Sitting.
